Family Trees

By NANCY PARKES
P.O. Box 387, Louisville, Miss. 39339

The family tree of Duncan McCollum, b. 1769 in Argyleshire, Scotland, and died in 1848 in Camden Arkansas, is being drawn up by descendant J. Kinloch McCollum. He is having a difficult time trying to locate the Mississippi relatives and the descendants of Daniel McCollum of Claiburn, Ala. The emigrant Duncan McCollum married, in Scotland, McIver Christian Campbell. They settled first in Richmond Co., NC, later removing to the vicinity of Bennettsville, SC about 1800 - 1802. They had ten children: John, Archibald, Daniel, Mary, Catherine, Peter, Christian, Betsy, Duncan and Sarah. Archibald McCollum was born 1794 in Richmond Co., NC, and died in 1870 in Simpson Co., Miss. He married in 1823 Mary McLaurin who was born 1797 in Richmond Co., NC and died in Simpston Co., Miss. She was the daughter of Duncan and Nancy Black McLaurin of Argyleshire, Scotland. Duncan McLaurin was the son of Hugh and Nancy Colquhoun McLaurin and was born in Argylshire in 1777, coming to America in 1790. He married 1st Nancy Black, daughter of John and Jeannie Carmichael Black. Archibald and Mary M. McCollum had six children: Laurin, born 1824 in Simpson Co., MS, Anna Jane, Christian, Catherine, Martha and Duncan. Archibald was a farmer, with 3,000 acres in and around Simpson Co. He had a cotton gin and a sawmill. His first house burned but the second still stands near the Skiffer Creek, west of Mt. Olive and Magee, at what was called Mt. Zion, Miss. Archibald's youngest sister, Sarah, 1812 - 1894, married Archibald Milley and lived in Covington Co., homesteading about 11 miles west of Mt. Olive, Miss. They had five children. The children of Archibald and Mary McLaurin McCollum married these families McNair, Haynes, McLaurin, Buchanan, King, and Hartwell. Duncan McCollum, youngest son of Archibald, was b. 1837, d. 1884, married in 1868 to Mary Emeline Hartwell in Hazelhurst, Miss. He graduated in the Class of 1861 at Univ. of Miss., was Captain Co. A 4th Miss. Cav., CSA, Member of the State Legislature, a schoolteacher, and farmer. They had 7 children, six being born at Williamsburg, Miss.

It has not been determined just when Archibald McCollum came to Miss., but it is supposed to have been about 1815 - 1820. The story in the family is that he came about 2 years after Mary McLaurin came for they lived close together in Richmond Co., NC and he was in love with Mary. After she left with her father, Duncan McLaurin, Archibald sold out his holdings and moved to Miss.. just when and by what route is not known. Anyone descending from these branches of this family tree can contact Mr. J. Kinloch McCollum at 4237 St. Francis Circle, Jacksonville, Fla., 32210.

"Supplement to Atles form for McCallum Forrest County
McCallum Cemetary

Located 1 mi. east of McCallum settlement about ¼ mile from the highway on the New Augusta road is possibly is the oldest cemetary in Forrest County, comprising the graves of the McCallums, Hartfields and in back of the cemetary, the slaves, owned by these settlers, the first white men after the Indians, to inhabit this vicinity. Entrance is gained through a large iron gate, and gracing the property to the left is the grave of a small child, over which a wooden shelter, of the earlier type, encases the mound. Some of the childs toys are still on top of the grave, in evidence, a small toy resembling a minute chariot, rusty with age, a tiny chin doll void of color probably washed away by rains. The marker does not show the inscription but the writer is informed that the name of the child is Thompson, daughter of the Morgan Thompson's. The year the burial took place was around 1900. Most of the graves have stone markers while there are some that are mounds, gravelled over with no marker of any type to identify the graves.

Followering is a list of the graves and inscriptions of the markers which this writer was fortunate enough to survey.

Mrs. Ann Stewart Hartfield- Born- June 9, 1844- Died- March 3, 1866. Inscription: Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord.

To the memory of Annie McCallum- Born- November 24, 1811- Died- April 18, 1891. Inscription: There is no parting in Heaven.

Mrs. Catherine Hartfield- Departed this Life March 30, 1881, in her 70th Year.- Inscription: Why lament the Christian's doom
Why indulge in tears of gloom
Calmly in her Lord, relying
She has met the open tomb.

Andrew Denham Hartfield- Born- 1846- Died- 1917. Inscription: A Friend to his Country and a follower of Christ. (By spelling the middle name backwards, the town of Mahned, Miss., was named. The most unusual coincident ever found in Miss.)

Katie Hartfield- Born- July 4, 1882- Died- July 21, 1895. (This child was attacked and killed by Tom Johnson, a negro, on the night of one of the first primary elections. The scene laid close to the Dixie Community School.)

Sacred to the Memory of Margaret McCallum, who died December 30, 1825. (This grave is the oldest in the cemetary, as the child was the first white child buried here.)

Sacred to the Memory of Malcom McCallum- Died- October 15, 1834. Aged 60 Years.

Mary McCallum- Died 1854.

McCallum is the earliest settlement in Forrest County, and was named for John McCallum, one of the first to occupy territory in this vicinity. McCallum was a stock raiser and timber man. Before settling here, this country, in this particular vicinity, was inhabited by Indians, apparently of the Choctaw branch, as many evidences of arrow heads, fashioned of rocks and Indian flints were found after these first settlers came.

McCallum is rich in history and was known as the most important stock locality in Forrest County. The chief trading centers were Mobile and Past Christian, at which points the settlers would carry their wares and livestock to trade for merchandise, staples and ect. They carried their shot in gourds for protection during encampment along the way. They would often carry 100 head of turkey at a time and allow them to roost in the trees of the dense forest, during the jorney.

McCallum owned over 2,000 head of cattle at certin interviles of time. The Hartfields, Thompsons, Carters and McCallums were the earliest settlers. They were very learned people, the wives being teachers and the men of the community, leaders, responsible for the shelter, food and means of livelihood. Practically all of the pioneers of thie settlement were Scotch-Irish and English, inclined to be of a serious religious nature, in evidence of the reverent inscriptions on the tombstones.

The life here has been typically that of the pioneer, and even to date, there are many residents who have not changed with the years that have passed. The only changes ever wrought in this particular locality were the operations of one or two sawmills, prompting the addition of settlers employed by the mills, at which time there were also one or two storesand commissaries, all of which shut down after discontinuanceof the mills.

The locality is primarily occupied by antecedents of the first pioneers, and cattle is at present, the main issue, as general farming is carried on along a minor scale. There are deep wells found in many of the old homes and grounds, by which water of unusually healthful contents, is pumped to the homes. The surface of this land is rolling to moderately hilly, with some steep slopes along portions of the river and some of the minor drainage ways. The middle of this section includes severial square miles of comparatively level land, a remnant of an old plain. From the head of Burketts Creek to McCallum, most of the land, drained by numerous short tributaries of Leaf River, is quite hilly. The topography is generally rather mild.

(This is the home of Duncan Thompson, Rt. 6, Forrest County, Miss.)

Possibly one of the most unusual sights of senic beauty can be found in the yard of a tenant house, one mile east of McCallum. There is a large pond in this spot, in the center of which is a tract of land resembling a minute isle, on which a graceful willow tree spreads its limbs. Many wild blossoms were in bloom, upon viewing the site in the spring of the year and this presented a glorious combination of color, that any artist would find a paradise on their boards, should they witness the sight. The wild blossoms, pink, white, and red, the principal colors, dot the landscape in profusion.

Possibly some of the most intresting relics are possessed by Mrs. M.C. Daniel, McCallum community. She has a grease jug from the Revolutionary War, symbolic of unusual historical value. It was used by many were active in this great war. Also in her possession are severial old readers, including a Greek reader, French reader, German, English and Scottish, allof them being brought to this part of the country by the Scotch antceedents who first settled here. They were used in some of schools near the vicinity, of mentionable note, the school at Enon, not far from McCallum, but now extinct. The home of Mrs. Danial is over seventy years old, with the floor and ceilings constructed of the timber from the Droughon mill at the old settlement of Enon, of which date cannot be recalled. There is a deep well on the side of the house which was constructed during the World War.

This information was compiled in 1949 by:

The first severial years after the McCallum Methodist Church was organized which was in 1905, it was served by Itinerant Preachers. In those days they came by horse and buggy, this being the case they would come on Saturday and stay over Sunday night.

There is yet a few in our comunity who remember the small one room school house that stood at the top of the McCallum hill. This little school house served as a place of worship as well and for about 10 years, the people here climbed this hill every Sunday to Sundy School and once a month, for preaching.

In 1907, I came to be a resident of McCallum and I began climbing this hill, too. But after about 2 years of this climbing, it suddenly dawned upon us that prehaps we could get a little church at the bottom of the hill.

Miss Leise B. Davis who had been with the Thompson family off and on for years, was here and was appointed leader and in a very short time, she had the program started.

There was as many or more, Presbyterians and Baptist here as there were Methodist, but all were very enthusastic over the prospects of a church building.

It seems to me now that it wasn't but a few months before the work got underway.

Carter Lumber Company had a sawmill here then and they, through J.M. Carter donated the rough material.

Tatum Lumber Company donated lots of the dressed material and everything that was purchased away, had to be hauled with mules and wagon, which was done by Thompson Bros.

The lot was donated by Mr. J.P. Carter, etal. Mr. Mose Ward, superintended the construction and the neighborhood men donated their labor, so in a short time the building was going up.

Laying the coner stone was a ~~blessing~~ blessed and momentous moment to us. I remember very vividly, many of the names that are in that coner stone.

In a very short time, the little church was completed. Hattiesburg Cabinetmakers made the benches and the Alter Railing.

Thr Main Street Methodist Church in Hattiesburg, having purchased a new organ, gave us their old organ.

I think that preaching was begun in the church, sometime in the summer of 1911. The way I derived at this is by a letter written me by Mack in May of 1911, while he was serving on a jury in Hattiesburg. He told me to have Duncan bring the mules and wagon and he would get some of the jury men to help load the organ. Rev. G.R. Ellis was our pastor at that time. None of the first seven members are living now and there are only three members that were here in 1906, living now. They are, Miss Davis, our leader, Mrs. Annie L. Thompson Trest and Mrs. Daisy A. Trest. I was here in 1907 but at that time I was one of thosr Baptist that I referred to previously. I later united with this church.

In 1915 the church and lot was deeded to Conference while Rev. G.H. Thompson was Presiding Elder.

In 1930, a new roof was put on the church, this and other repairs amounted to $120.00.

IN 1946, repairs were begun again but as material was high and funds, scarce, there wasn't much progress made.

There was an opportunity of getting one of the small Chapels at Camp Shelby for $50.00, so it was purchased and through the kindness of Mr. R.A. Taylor who offered to donate his time in supervising wrecking it, Mr. A.M. Nixon and Mack Thompson, who donated about four days each, the wrecking didn't cost much.

Elden Weldy donated hauling most of the material so moving it didn't cost very much. This Chapel has contributed much toward finishing the Church and Sundy School Rooms.

From here, I am not too familiar with the cost of improvements or what has been donated, so when the Church is completed I'd suggest a supplement be added to the above history.

"ADVERTISEMENT

In the year 1767, the Society for propagating Christian Knowledge publifhed the first edition of the following tranflation of the New Teftament, into the Gaelic language. In the opinion of good judges, the work was executed in the moft faithful manner, and it has been well received in every part of the Highlands. The author however was himfelf fenfible in that it was fufeeptible of improvement, and in an interleaved copy marked with his own hand feveral corrections, which in the prefent edition have been carefully made. With a view to its further improvement, the tranflation has lately in whole, or in part, been revifed by gentlemen in different parts of the Highlands, who were every way qualified for that important tafk, and who freely communicated their remarks to the editor. He has ventured, however, to make no alterations but fuch as, on a critical examination, appeared neceffary and important, and fuch as the Author himfelf, had he been in life, would have probably approved of."

Sometime between 1805 and 1812 they moved to Hardiman Co., Tennessee. In 1814, they came to Mississippi and in June of that year they stopped on Topisaw Creek near Shady Grove Church in a house on what is known as the Sim Felder place where he made a corn crop; in 1815 he moved and settled on the place now owned by David P. Patricia, I copied a note from this board that you wrote on Dec. 22, 1992. I was saving all notes that I could find on the McCallums. I have collected so much on them that I think I can answer the question you put on the board back then. Your note read:

"I have in my file the following McCallum families:

Archibald 1807 AL in Jasper Co
John 1811 MS in Perry Co

I have the wives of these, but not the parents. Do you know who they are?"

If these wives match here are your folks:

Archibald 1807 - m. Mary Torrey 4-12-1842
John 1811 (I show born 1810) m. Pricilla Tyler 3-18-1841

Malcolm SR. was the father and Archibald and John his sons. I have more information on these McCallums if you are interested.

Tony, plenty McCallums settled in Smith Co., MS. I'm related to some. The families, all kin, have their own spelling prefs., some are McCollums, others just as fiercely, are McCallums, and some, I suspect have switched, over the years for one reason or another. I have a WPA history of Smith Co. MS, pub. 1936, unindexed, but the family profile lists the first one as Angus McCollum, who came from highlands near Glasgow, came to MS "in the early days." Angus had served apprenticeship as mechanic in Scotland & McCollum was living in S.Carolina but became dissatisfied with "comfort," and pushed on. His and Mike Kelly's families settled on Clear Creek in MS near pres. site of Calvary Ch., Presbyterian country church. McCollum built a home, put up a turn lathe & mechanic shop, and w/Kelly (who was a surveyor) built a horse-powered gin with steel brought from Mobile.McCollum built other gins in Simpson & Covington Cos, the first in his part of MS. Cotton pressed by hand into bales. 2 bales a day considered a good ginning. Angus also made wagons, spinning wheels, looms, furn. & cabinets. They built Calvary ch. about 1850. I see no mentions of Guices offhand, but see Grices(?). The McCollums (McCallums) were substantial people, local & county officials, etc. Some of the given names from my time were Duncan, Dee, Scott, Peter, Angus, Charles, Daniel. A few are bu. at Sharon Church, also Presbyterian, 4 or so miles away. Smith Co. was org. in 1836 from Indian Lands ceded by Dancing Rabbit Creek treaty.At least some of this land was attached to Simpson for census purposes in 1830, but enumeratged only a few whites, mostly traders w/Indians. Yrs., Harold.
